

Senior Land Surveyor Manukau

McKenzie & Co. Consultants Ltd are land development consultants who offer a full end to end service including planning, land development concept design, engineering design, surveying and contract administration.

To advance the purpose of McKenzie & Co, “to help to develop great places and people”, we are looking for a Senior Surveyor to lead Cadastral work for our land development projects. The work is team based and collaborative. The role is expected to provide excellent surveying services for all projects undertaken by the business.

This is a busy role that works within a high-pressure deadline driven environment. McKenzie & Co is a business that is growing at pace and needs people who are adaptable, flexible and have the energy to add to the ongoing success of the business. This role would suit someone who is comfortable working with Design Engineers, leading and developing surveyors and technicians, is professional, and who is comfortable building and maintaining strong client relationships.

All applicants will have had at least two years’ work experience in New Zealand and will have either the relevant residency status, or be New Zealand residents. We are looking for Senior Surveyors with a BSurv or equivalent, are Licensed Cadastral Surveyors, and who preferably have a management qualification.

Applicants must have a minimum of 5 years PQE plus consulting experience specialising in land development, high density freehold/strata and unit title developments experience. Applicants must be competent using 12d, Civil3d and Landonline, as these tools are critical to this role. Being able to demonstrate “good survey practice” and a thorough knowledge of GNSS, robotic total stations, UAV, and leading software for fieldwork, data collection, and data processing, are also must haves.

Strong project management skills and experience, good attention to detail skills, strong communication skills, both verbal and written, plus good presentation skills and strong client relationship skills are all essential to this role. Personal attributes of high integrity and a genuine “Can Do” attitude are musts.

If this sounds like you and you wish to join this small friendly team, then please forward your CV and covering letter to robyn@businesspeople.co.nz no later than Thursday 30 November 2017.
