

Survey Graduate / Technician Christchurch

Land Development / Surveying / Aerial Surveying / Engineering / Planning / Urban Design

creating legacies with land

At Fox and Associates we have an opportunity for a Survey Graduate/Technician to join our team. We are an established and progressive consultancy based in Christchurch providing surveying, engineering and planning services throughout the South Island.

You will be joining a strong team whose focus is to leave a positive and lasting legacy for our clients. You will therefore be involved with a wide variety of meaningful work projects, work experiences not typically found in other companies, receive on-going training/development opportunities plus a competitive salary package

The successful candidate will either need to be a Survey Graduate who has completed their university degree, or a Technician Surveyor with a recognised qualification or training towards a qualification

- Can you assist by adding to our strong relationships, the team culture and client focus, creating networks and a safe work environment?
- Will you work ethically, morally providing quality work and give back to your community?
- Are you a learner, who applies and shares your knowledge/skills, thereby adding to our ability to 'punch above our weight'?
- Do you consider yourself ingenious, innovative and adaptable and want to be part of team creating legacies with land through your efforts?
- We have a passion and enjoyment for our work, take pride in what we do and promise to take our customers along with us. Can you commit to this?

If you want to be part of this opportunity apply to Carl Fox (carl@foxsurvey.co.nz), forwarding a Covering Letter, CV and anything supporting information you feel might be relevant.
